EDUCATION

SCHOOL OF THE ART INSTITUTE OF CHICAGO

Bachelors in Fine Arts Studio, Major in Visual Communication + Printmedia

Since high school I have been further developing my independent graphics art business. Designing and executing fibers clothing, accessories, and prints under the name ROWDI. During my senior year of highschool, at the Senior Winter Art Show, I sold every piece of clothing with graphics I designed. I have been selling many design works and clothing through my website and Instagram account since.

My time at SAIC has further developed my skills in visual communication through various design projects and courses. Learning to design professional layouts, spreads, and web design. In college, I also expanded my education in printmedia through working with traditional screen printing and risograph, to screen printing with fiber arts and alternative materials.
